The preparation of this document was financed in part through a Comprehensive Planning Assistance Grant from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, under the provisions of Section 701 of the Housing Act of 1954, as amended.

PREFACE

State and local officials have long realized that local governments need more freedom if they are to meet the needs of their citizens. The new Montana Constitution now provides for such freedom, but its provisions must be carefully implemented. We must move from our present tangle of confusing, conflicting and unnecessarily complex local government laws to a new set of laws that will give local governments the authority to deal effectively with their problems.

The new Montana Constitution and a new code of local government laws will permit local governments to be partners--not stepchildren--of the state.

It is the State's responsibility--specifically the Legislature's responsibility--to adopt new laws to implement the local government article of the new Constitution and permit effective modernization of local government.

The Legislature created the State Commission on Local Government to study and recommend necessary and desirable changes to the 1975 and 1976 Legislative Sessions. The act creating the Commission provides: "The commission shall make a detailed and thorough study of local government structure, powers, services, finance and state-local relations. The commission shall prepare a revised code of local government law based on its studies and may make other recommendations for the improvement of local government." While the Commission's primary responsibility is to prepare a revised code of local government law, the Commission is also authorized to: "...consult with and assist local government study commissions."

This report contains the names of candidates for county local government study commissions. The report was compiled from questionnaires completed by County Clerks and Recorders. The Commission appreciated their prompt response to our request for this information.

The 56 counties have authorized a total of 214 study commission positions. A total of 377 study candidates have filed for 165 positions (49 positions have no candidates)--which means at least 77 percent of the positions will be filled by elected commissioners. No appointments will be required in 42 counties and only 4 counties had no candidates file. In 8 of the counties all the positions will be contested. At least 88 percent of the people in the state will be represented by elected County Government Study Commissioners. Of the 56 counties, 39 have authorized 3 positions, 13 authorized 5 positions, 2 authorized 7, and 2 authorized 9.
